ROULETTE

Roulette bets are as follows:

Single Number Bet	PAYS 35 to 1
Split Bets (Any one of the two numbers):	17 to 1
Street Bets (Any one of the three in a group):	11 to 1
Square Bets (Any one of the four in a group):	8 to 1
Line Bets (Any one of the six in a group):	5 to 1
Quatro Bets (9 number bets):	3 to 1
Dozen Bets (12 number bets):	2 to 1
Red or Black colour/1-18 or 19-36/Even or Odd Bets	1 to 1

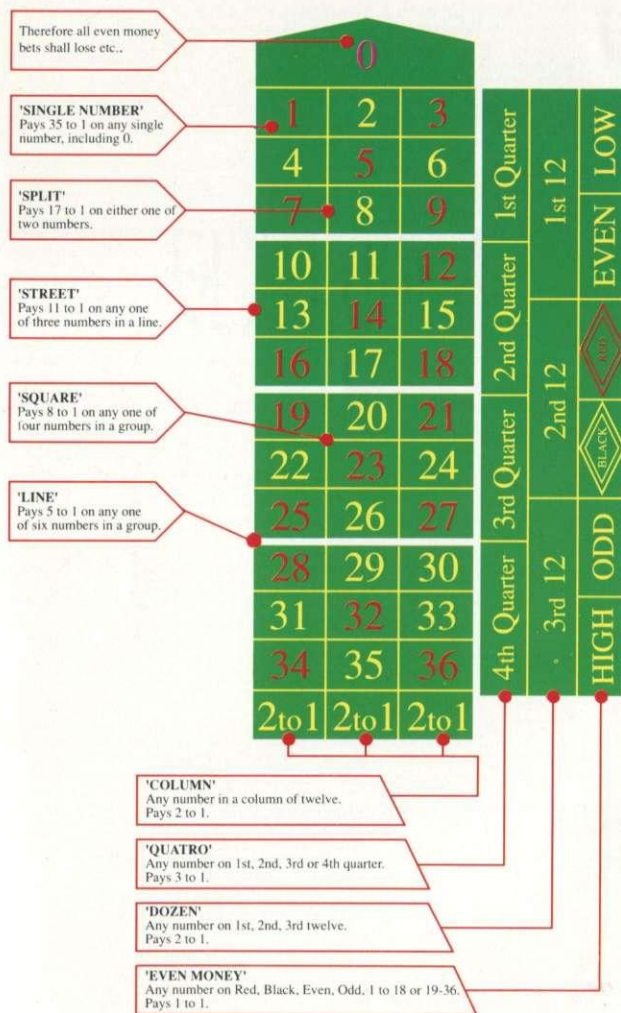

The object of the game is to bet on a number, combination of numbers, Red or Black colour or Even or Odd bets (See illustration below).

The game commences when the spinner turns the wheel in one direction and a small white ball spun in the opposite direction. The dealer will ring the bell and call "NO MORE BETS PLEASE". when the ball slows down and is about to drop. Additional bets will no longer be accepted. The number and colour of the slot that the ball falls into is the winning number and winning bets will paid out accordingly.

Different coloured playing chips are used, with each player given one colour to identify one player's bets from another's.

The betting limits are displayed at the gaming table.

When you have ceased playing, exchange your playing chips at the gaming table for cash chips which should then be cashed at the Main Cashier's Counter.
